Optional Customisable Disclaimer

0

Exhibition Disclaimer vs Optional Customisable Disclaimer

- Please note that the first disclaimer (the one defined by the ESC to consent, or not, to provide data to industries) will appear to all attendees once they click on the 'Exhibition' tab. If attendees don't accept this disclaimer, their details will not appear in the dataviz for all exhibitors. However, delegates will still be able to access the exhibition.

Functionality Behavior

- It is possible for you to add a second optional customisable disclaimer that will appear once participants click on your logo. By default, if participants click on 'x' to close the disclaimer, they will not be able to access your exhibitor profile. In this situation, delegates will be redirected to the exhibition landing page.
- They will see your page only if they accept your disclaimer.

Recommended Specifications

- We recommend having a disclaimer that doesn't exceed 300 characters (including spaces). Please note that attendees may not have, nor take the time to read it. On another note, the visibility will be greater with these specifications.
- The maximum number of characters for your disclaimer is 500.
- As this disclaimer is optional, you can decide not to have it.
