Disclosure of conflict of Interest

The session organiser confirms that All Speakers/Chairpersons participating in this programme have fully agreed to provide the session organiser with any potential conflicts of interest that may arise from their presentations.

The existence of potential conflicts of interest does not necessarily indicate a bias. However it is the session organiser's obligation to inform the ESC and participants so that they are made aware of any relationship that might cause unintentional bias.

A potential conflict of interest may arise from various relationships, past or present, such as employment, consultancy, investments and stock ownership, funding for research, family relationship, etc...

A potential bias relevant to the topic of the accredited programme/text must be disclosed:

- at the beginning of the presentation for events
- on the introductory page of the CD ROM or Web module
- at the beginning or at the end of the CME article/text
